THURSDAY SMILE

Two sailors, at sea for the first time, were looking out over the mighty ocean. Said one, "That's the most water I ever saw."

The other replied, "You ain't seen nothin' yet. That's just the top of it."

The Snowmobile Club, organized a week ago, held a Directors meeting Sunday evening, April 2nd at Minto Marine, here in Minden. From all reports the Club is off to a good start, and much will be planned over the coming months in preparation for next years activities.

They are as follows: President Roy Windover, Vice-President Les Northey, Secretary Bill Prentice, Treasurer Keith Johnson, the Directors are as follows: Morgan Prentice, Bob Minto, Walt Wideman.

The second general meeting is slated for April 25th, at the Wag-on Wheel Motel on highway 35. At the general meeting, a club name will be adopted, suggested names are, Highland Snowmobilers, Highland Snowgoers, Highlands Snowriders, Minden Snowmobilers.

The executive have also made it quite clear that this club is not only a Minden club, but all ardent snowmobilers are welcome to join, making it a County Club. The executive also decided to sponsor a contest at the Haliburton on High School, for the designing a club crest. The winner of this contest will receive $10.00. There will be more information on this contest at a later date.

The many different committees will be formed at the next General meeting, and everyone is urged to attend, so that a full agenda can be covered.

FENWICK FINCH

First of all, before going any further, this week's column is not in defence of Berkely Feir as Editor of the Haliburton Echo. Editors are a peculiar, strong charactered group of people and quite capable of taking care of themselves. In their daily work and congress with people they receive letters etc. etc. from all types of odd-balls and cranks.

* * * *

My primex motive is to get some sort of clarification from the letter written by "Charles L. Webster." in last week's Echo.

* * * *

First of all Mr. Webster, what is your point? Your letter is so full of tautology that you lost me. Secondly, you may be majoring in medicine but somewhere along the line your English teacher failed in teaching you the art of clarity. Again, I ask, what were you trying to prove?

Going through your letter the crux seems to be the statement, "It is hard to estimate the great loss our town has suffered, as doctors are hard to come by." If such is the case then, from your twenty five years and college education you have gained little or nothing in the understanding of people.

You'll pardon me Mr. Webster if I write "euphemistically" here. I can almost see you as you finished this "letter to the Editor" laying down your pen, or possibly, being a medical student, closing you typewriter, leaning back with a smirk of satisfaction and saying, "there, I guess that will show those backwoods execration kickers a thing or two."

* * * *

Maybe it did. But, personally I missed the point of your whole letter. Would you mind explaining it to me — and a few more of us near illiterates who were lost in your redundancy.

* * * *

From your letter, with it's almost bathetic phrasing, I'd venture to predict that as a medical practitioner you will need greater emotional stability before your patients are going to have a fighting chance.

* * * *

I see by the latest copy of the "Outdoorsman" that our good friend Earl T. Monahan is again featured and, as usual, Earl came up with a "plug" for the Highlands of Haliburton.

Featured also was an article from the "poet laureate" Wallace Havelock Robb of Abbey Dawn, near Kingston. Mr. Robb is an authority on Indian Life and his "Leaping Puma, Tecumtha" is a classic.

Shortly after coming to Minden I received a letter from Mr. Robb and he was seriously thinking of moving up this way. However, his ties were such that he couldn't leave his sanctuary at Abbey Dawn. This was a great loss to our community.

* * * *

That's it for this week, Until we meet again — think on this — "teetot'lers seem to die off just the same as others, so what is the percentage in knocking off the "Usquebagh" or "Water of Life."

* * * *

Drive carefully — the tourists are back and the odds are becoming higher on getting sluggish along the highways as the traffic increases.

LA NORE BEAUTY SALON

THEIR SLOGAN READS - "SMARTEST SHOP IN TOWN"

Their slogan reads, "Smartest Shop In Town", but after taking a conducted tour through the La Nore Beauty Salons, the ladies here are very fortunate, for this shop has the most up-to-date equipment in the county. "Comments from summer residents, are very pleasing", explained Mrs. Nora Hogg, partner with her daughter, Mrs. Shiela Austin, "the tourists are quite surprised that we have all the equipment, to do a first class job, and they say our shop is on a par with those in larger centres."

In this spacious beauty salon, the ladies sit in very comfortable air-cooled hair dryers, all equipment is sterilized in a very modern Ultra Violet machine. For those who only want their hair dresser to know, a private tinting room is available, with all modern facilities. As for the many hair styles and cuts, La Nore Beauty Salon can manage them all, but they specialize in hair colouring and hair shaping.

Before going into their own Beauty Shop business, Nora was chief operator here with the Dysart Municipal Telephone Co. for many years, Shiela also worked for the telephone Co.

It was in 1961, after taking a complete hair dressing course at Bruno's School of Hair Design, in Toronto that they purchased the Marie Lewington business, here in Minden, then located in the Trepanier building. The next year, with a very much increased business, more room was needed, so they moved to their present location. Only a month ago Mrs. Hogg purchased the entire business block, and in time hopes to give it a complete face-lifting.

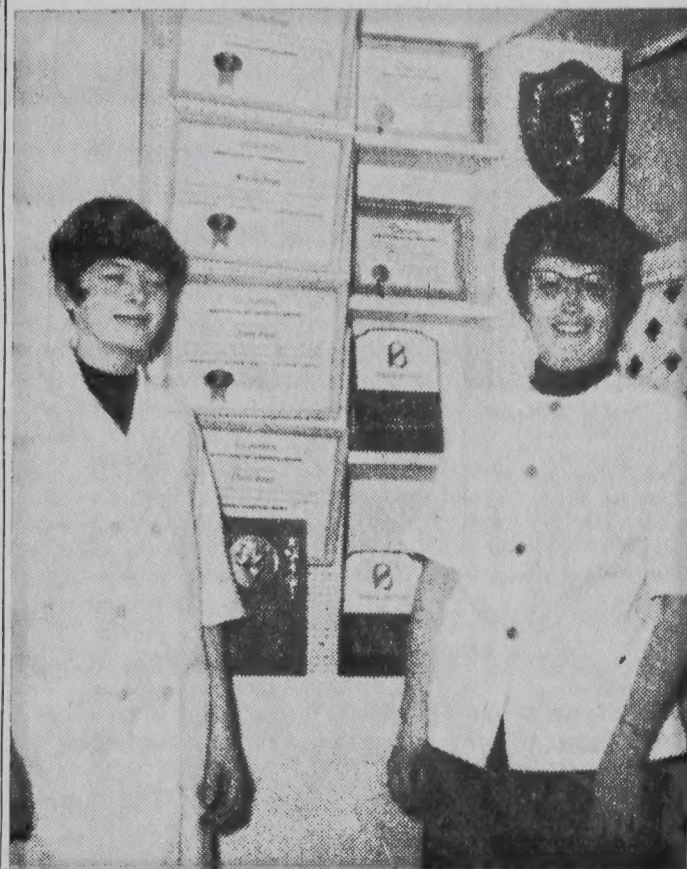

Nora and Shiela have continued over the years to improve, and keep up with all the latest techniques in the business, this has taken them on many courses, and has won them many awards. Some of these are the following: Bruno's Advanced Academy of Hair Design, Clairol Institute of Hair Colouring, Rayette Colouring School, and just this week, both have been attending Bruno's Advanced "New Trend" Hair Design course. All plaques and awards are displayed proudly in their Beauty Salon.

Karen Lonsberry, "Girl Friday" as she is called has worked in La Nore's for four years, on part time. Mrs. Terry Brooks, is also an employee, in summer months.

"It's a womens world", and La Nore Beauty Salon plays a big part here in Minden, keeping the fair sex looking their best at all times.

Pictured above is Mrs. Nora Hogg, busy with a customer. She explained, "we go out of our way to satisfy, and keep our customers happy."

On the left, Karen Lonsberry, and right Mrs. Shiela Austin, stand beside the many awards and certificates in which the owners have earned and received.

DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT — A LAUGH

Have you ever stopped to think what is happening to our democratic way of life? Well, we haven't been drifting around this globe as long as some, but we can see the times, and our freedom, changing very rapidly.

Talk about Rev. Jim, and his New Morality, and the changes taking place in the church — we feel a few changes should take place in our government, and before too long, or all our efforts and money will only benefit the state, in which we live. This of course means democracy is finished and we now have communism.

Every time one opens his mail these days, he just shudder, for it could bring the news of another increase in sales tax, or a new fresh air tax — the time is coming, when one will have to record his trips to the wash room, for the government will want a piece of the action.

Have you ever stopped to figure it out, probably we notice it a little more in this business, for we have a manufactures tax to charge, collect, and pay each month — this tax is on almost everything, but it is hidden, and the old saying goes "what one doesn't know, will never hurt him". This however is so untrue about tax, hidden or not, it hurts everyone.

We are forced to pay the unemployment insurance, income tax, workman's compensation, pension, federal tax, provincial tax, municipal tax, county tax, and if one enjoys smoking, drinking, or burning up gas in his car, he is hit with a real slap in taxes.

The government is changing our free life into a planned life — eventually there will be plans for everybody and everything. We now have the pension plan, the future will give us a medical plan, dentist plan, optometrist plan, education plan, food plan, recreation plan, family plan, transportation plan, etc., etc., yes even a plan to take care of the taxations — we see them all coming, we will have to pay for them, and they will be compulsory — other words we will be living under the gun.

The government, properly termed, is an administration body — they are no longer this, they are into business, big business — they are no longer administrating, they are dictating. They are taking the control of more and more business each day — the latest field they are attempting to crash is the insurance business. This means the little agent will be gone, we will pay our insurance into the government. They of course will have to hire twice as many people to run the show, and as a result we will have to pay increased premiums.

The government already are in the television business, one of these days we will be banging on this typewriter, while sitting on the curv — they will operate all newspapers, and freedom of the press will be gone. When this day comes, I will throw in the sponge, and call on Mr. Frank Welch — and there will probably be a plan for this too.

RD? - WHAT'S THAT

It's trouble — trouble in the breathing system.

RD is Respiratory Disease — many different ailments with different causes, effects, and treatment:

Acute illnesses that may be cough, such as common cold, flu, pneumonia, and acute bronchitis. They are caused by germs or viruses.

Tuberculosis, a germ disease that may be acute or chronic (long lasting). Other chronic diseases, caused by many different things. Examples are: Emphysema (em-fih-SEE ma, in which air is trapped in the lungs). Lung cancer. Bronchitis (swelling and excess mucus in the air tubes). Causes of these illnesses may vary, but cigarette smoking and air pollution are strongly suspected in all three.

Pneumoconiosis (also chronic) is damage to the lungs caused by certain dusts.

Fungus infection (chronic, sometimes acute), caused by plant-like growths breathed in with air. Depending on the fungus cause, the illness may be called histoplasmosis, coccidioidomycosis, blastomycosis, or other.

Diseases of allergy (sensitivity to otherwise harmless substances). The most common in the respiratory system are asthma and hay fever.

TROUBLE?

— Acute Rds are the major cause of time lost from school and work.
— Emphysema is second among causes of disability for workers.
— Chronic RD is a direct or aiding cause of about 9,000 deaths a year.

— More than 4,000 new active cases of tuberculosis are found in Canada a year.

All Rds (Respiratory Diseases) are the concern of your tuberculosis and respiratory disease association, supported by your Christmas Seal contributions.

Cameron Highlanders — the colourful and striking appearance of the Scottish regiments of the Army make the ma favourite attraction for visitors to Scotland. Begun in 1793, the Cameron Highlands had "Queen's Own" added to their name by Queen Victoria in 1873. Now however, the regiment has been amalgamated with the Seaforth Highlanders. The Pipe-Major sports a beard, a concession which pipers shared with pioneer sergeants in the British Army.

MOST FISH KILLS FROM WASTES, TEMPERATURE OWRC REPORT REVEALS

Industrial wastes were the suspected or indicated cause of eight of the 25 fish kills recorded by the Ontario Water Resources Commission in 1966, an OWRC report reveals.

Unusually high water temperatures in early summer accounted for most of the six kills attributed to "natural" causes in the report, which says these temperatures probably contributed to some mortalities where industrial wastes were involved.

Game fish were killed in 15 instances, and numbers observed were usually in the hundreds.

The report points out that the OWRC Biology Branch maintains records on fish kills as an aid in detecting areas where pollution requires immediate corrective measures, and says causes of fish kills cannot be determined without prompt investigation.

For this reason, initial inspections in some cases are carried out by personnel from other government agencies who are stationed near the location of a kill.

Eight kills are listed in the report as cause unknown, two resulted from pesticides, and one cause is listed as miscellaneous.

THINK about FIRE

...wherever you are

SPORTS WITH BOB BEENEY

What do you mean our town isn't progressive? Lets just look around us.

We have a water works system that many people scoffed at when it was thought of. Yet it is a real necessity of the community. We have an up to date municipal building, better than any in the County, that takes care of all our municipal needs. We have a staff of municipal employees who are conscientious and take pride in their duties. We have a Roads Department that has upgraded our roads to a very high standard, and is keeping pace with the growth of the area. We have a volunteer Fire Department and Municipal Ambulance Service that is second to none anywhere. We have a public library that handles all types of books and supplies a great need to the community. We have a school system that is in step with any school system in the County of Haliburton.

All these things were made possible by progressive elected citizens of the past and the present, who took pride in their community.

We are the County Town, and headquarters for the Ontario Provincial Police, Department of Lands and Forest, the Registry Office. We have a fine Post Office and the very best in the Hyland Crest Home for the Aged.

We have the finest shopping section this side of Lindsay and Peterborough, and a modern Red Cross Outpost Hospital. We have two fine service clubs that help take care of the many needs of our community. I could go on and on listing the good points of our town, but this is not really why I have mentioned all these wonderful parts of our community. The reason is to draw a comparison. All these wonderful facilities and businesses, and yet we have a second rate community centre, that is most important in providing a first rate community recreation program. In comparison its like a Model "T" against a Lincoln Continental. It might get you there, but its not what the people want.

Within the next three years we will be joined to Muskoka with the Vankoughnet - Carnarvon road. Lets try and make sure that our many visitors head south first before they visit the rest of the County. A community Centre with the proper recreational promotion could possibly send a helping hand.

Some sceptics will say that an arena will not draw people from one area to another. But I will lay odds that with the Haliburton Hockey Haven operating a hockey school with NHL hockey stars in attendance, a referees school and Minnesota, opening their training camp there, many, many people will by pass Minden and travel to Haliburton to spend their money.

With all respect to Minden council which they most justly deserve I still think that an inquiry into the possible cost, location and the type of centre needed, should be made so that all ratepayers, both resident and non-resident, can decide for themselves, whether the expenditure is warranted.

SPORT NOTES —

It was good to hear last week that the snowmobilers have formed a club, here in Minden. This is without doubt an up and coming sport. Snowmobiling could also be what the doctor ordered for winter tourism, they are starting to come into the county more, and more, to use our natural winter wonderland. This club could very well promote something worthwhile for this county. Best of Luck to you snowmobilers.

Most of the permits issued for Corporal Des Lauriers was promoted to the rank of Corporal on December 1st, 1966 and was transferred to Minden in February of this year. Des and his wife own their own home in Cobocok but will be moving to Minden when suitable housing is found. During the winter months Des spends much of his leisure time curling and in the summer can be found enjoying a round of golf.

You can now.

A criminal or civil action, or specialized legal counsel might cost more than you can afford.

Yet justice may depend on both.

Inability to pay a lawyer is one of the last remaining obstacles to justice within the law. This is no longer a problem in Ontario.

On March 29, 1967, a new legal assistance act became effective in Ontario. It guarantees that no resident of this province shall be denied his legal rights because of the lack of money.

You choose your own lawyer.

You make application to him or your area director. Then a decision is made as to what portion of the legal costs, if any, you can pay.

The difference is made up from the legal assistance fund provided by the Government of Ontario. The plan is administered by The Law Society of Upper Canada.

Neither the court nor the public knows you have received legal assistance. It is a private affair between you and your lawyer.

This is the most advanced solution in the world to the problem of legal assistance.

And its purpose is to render justice to every man under the law.

MINDEN PROGRESS

Woods, Waters and Wildlife

by JAMES WOODFORD

It's seed catalogue season. Spring fever is striking, as usual, about a month before good weather strikes — and the only solution for the garden buff is day-dreaming before a blazing fire, garden catalogue in hand.

While you're exploring your seed catalogue, give a thought to specializing in plants which provide berries, seeds, and other food for birds and small animals. As civilization encroaches on more land, it leaves less room for wild creatures to live. It's not so much that people actually kill the animals, but that habitat is gone: food and homes become scarce.

A well planned garden can be a haven for wildlife, according to the Federation of Ontario Naturalists. It provides not only food, but cover, protection and nesting sites. You'll be doing yourself a favour, too, because you'll always have plenty of interesting activity to watch from your window.

Keep two things in mind as you look through your catalogue. One is: look for a combination of beauty and berries. Some of the most beautiful ornamental plants are also plants with berries which wildlife loves: flowering crab, cherry, sumac, wild plum, sweet birch, mountain ash, multiflora rose, snowberry, barberry, etc. The second thing to remember: a yard that's too well groomed and barren doesn't give shelter to wildlife. So plant some low shrubs and hedges (with berries) and leave room on your borders for little homes. An informal look entices the birds and animals.

When you've planted your yard to bring joy to the hearts of your feathered and four footed friends, remember to be careful about pesticides. If you'll make your garden enticing enough, the extra birds may take care of your insect problems — and you don't want to lure wild birds and animals to your yard only to feed them berries covered with poison.

ONTARIO POULTRY REGULATIONS WITHDRAWN

Owing to the fact that some confusion has arisen in the industry due to the lack of an educational period, the Poultry Grading regulations recently made under the Farm Products Grades and Sales Act have been withdrawn, Hon. Wm. A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture and Food, stated today.

Misunderstanding on the part of the poultry industry is felt to have arisen as a result of the poultry regulations being introduced prior to poultry processing plants coming under the Meat Inspection Act which, at the present, is confined to the inspection of red meats.

The withdrawal of the regulations at this time will give the industry a period in which to adjust to any change which may be necessary to meet the requirements of both the poultry grading regulations and the Meat Inspection Act.

Under the regulations, now suspended, poultry graded under the Ontario regulations would have to meet the same quality standards as specified under the Canada Agricultural Products Standards Act.

DANGERS FOR YOUR

PET FISH

Some time ago a most interesting article in a British newspaper in which a Mr. Brian Vesey Fitzgerald outlined the correct aquarium requirements for goldfish or tropical fish.

This article was quite interesting, that we know many people will adopt his guidelines for goldfish or tropical fish accommodation. In addition to its value as a guide it is also a bit of mathematical problem.

To quote Mr. Vesey Fitzgerald he says "A person wants to know how many fish to keep in his aquarium. His tank is 24 inches long by 12 inches wide by 15 inches deep. About four months ago he put in 24 goldfish, each about 1 inch long.

Now he has only eight — all the rest have died. He has been told this is because he put too many fish in the tank. Fish breath by taking in water through the mouth, then passing it out through he gills. Oxygen is dissolved and carbon dioxide is given off through contact with the air which lies near the surface.

If the surface area is too small the water becomes charged with carbon dioxide because there is no room to replace the oxygen when it's used by the fish. And, if there is not enough oxygen in the water, the fish die.

It is easy to work out the number of fish a tank will hold. Ignore the depth of water; that does not matter. It is the surface area which matters.

In the case of cold water fish — such as goldfish allow 20 square inches of water for each inch of fish. In the case of tropical fish allow 10 square inches for each inch of fish.

The gentleman with the aquarium mentioned above has 288 square inches of surface area of water. This means that 14 inches of fish (goldfish) is the maximum he can have. But don't forget that the fish will grow."

SPRING TREE PLANTING DEADLINE

Anyone planning to plant trees this spring should submit an application for nursery stock immediately. March 31st., is the deadline for ordering Department of Lands and Forests trees.

RED CROSS SUPPORTS

YOUTH PROGRAMS

The Canadian Red Cross is responsible for the administration costs of the Red Cross Youth programme (new name for the Junior Red Cross.) This program is designed to help educate our young people in good health habits, to encourage them to participate in some form of community international understanding.

Since the fostering of better international understanding is of paramount importance today, the Centennial Project of the Canadian Red Cross is an international conference of members of the world Red Cross Youth movement. This conference, called "Rendezvous 67", will take place at Ottawa in August. It will bring together some 80 delegates from about 45 countries to meet with some 300 young Canadians. They will discuss ways and means to improve international relations, particularly amongst the young people of the world.

This project is one of the more original Centennial Projects that is being undertaken across the nation this year, and it is one that will contribute greatly towards future world relations. Since the average age of Canadians today is only 25, "Rendezvous 67" is particularly apt at this time and represents a valuable long-term investment in our youth.

What's It All About?

by REV. JIM

The following are questions received by the editor — All questions will be accepted without signatures for this column, and answered each week.

Should there be two religions in a family?

Anon.

This is too great a problem to discuss in this column, with such little space. Usually two religions in one family causes havoc. I have however found one very effective solution. Give up both religions and make the person of Christ the head of the family.

What things are discussed in the meetings of boards and committees of our congregations?

Is nuclear arms, sex morality, real real worship, racial conflict, and community problems included or even talked about at these meetings?

Anon.

The business of the church. They keep the machinery oiled and operating. There are some committees however, set up for other purposes, for example a committee will be set up to arrange and invite all to a social evening and discussion of practical problems.

Not enough. The UCW however, is active in this regard.

Are the ten commandments dead? Should we follow them?

Anon.

Yes they are dead. Follow them as guidelines. Make love your aim. You will not only be Christian, but the law of love will love you in return. We indeed will break the commandments, and very often find it necessary to fulfill the law of love, but we will not be in bondage to adultery, cheating, lust etc. Love makes you free.

Is it alright to have Teen Time Dances held in a church?

Anon.

I personally see no wrong in this, and I am sure I am in line with the church as a whole.

MORE CHILDREN'S CLOTHING EXEMPT FOR 5 PER CENT TAX

Families with large children now get further relief from the provincial retail sales tax on clothing.

Provincial Treasurer C. S. MacNaughton has eliminated the five per cent tax on bigger sizes of children's clothes.

The new regulations, effective April 1, extend the exempt range to size 18 in boy's and 14X in girl's garments, as well as children's styles of sweaters to large size.

No tax applies now to dress and sports shirts to boy's sizes fourteen and a half.

In hose, the new exempt size is 10 for girls and 10 and a half for boys. Stretchy socks designed for children are also free of sales tax.

Provincial Treasurer MacNaughton says the new regulations result from parents' enquiries about taxes on clothing for children who are big for their age, which prompted a review of sizing by manufacturers of children's clothing.

But he warned that the extension of exempt sizes won't overcome the problem entirely, because some children just don't fit into the sizes established by the clothing manufacturers.

There's the problem too, of adults who can wear children's clothing and therefore could purchase exempt sizes if they shopped in boys' and girls' wear departments.

"The only controllable method of providing exemptions for children's clothing is associated with sizes," says the Minister.

"We have seriously studied other approaches but invariably conclude that the most feasible approach is the size factor."

Most parents who write provincial officials would like to see exemptions according to age. That, however, brings up the major objection that every clothing sales clerk would have to police the regulations in terms of establishing identification of buyers and of questioning the purchaser who might find it profitable to use a younger brother's or sister's birth certificate.

Even with the problem of sizes, however, the Ontario approach appears more lenient than the sales tax proposals made recently by the Royal Commission on Taxation to the Federal Government. The Carter Report indicates all children's clothing would be subject to the retail sales tax it would impose in place of the hidden manufacturer's tax charged at present.

An explanation of the new regulations on exempt children's clothing is now being forwarded to Ontario retailers.

In the technical language of the regulations, the new exemptions to boy's size 18 and girl's size 14X apply to garments, "that fit the upper half of or the whole body" and "that fit at or below the waist".
